

Making Men Program at Bellevue Elementary School

Making men is a mentoring program designed to enhance young men's self-esteem academic performance, and the ability to make responsible and healthy choices. Young men will develop respect for diversity among individuals and societies and the ability to form responsible relationships with a wide range of people. "Making men" creates an environment where failure is not an option.

Purpose:

- To instill positive values of self-worth
- To expose students to positive community-based role models
- To provide a safe, supportive environment
- To foster an educational climate that encourages high expectations for all learners where students reach their full academic potential
- To provide opportunities for students to benefit from participation in a multicultural community
- To teach wellness and wholeness
